

Possible patterns for The Teddy Bears' Picnic (we may need to adjust hook size and yarn to get appropriately-sized items).

Free instructions in YouTube video from SpringDay DIY. Search crochet mini honey jar keychain to find other options, too.

Free instructions in YouTube video from The JCrochet Gal. Search mini half sandwich keychain crochet for this pattern and the next.

Free instructions in YouTube video from SpringDay DIY.

We purchased instructions for a sandwich playset from TiffyHappyCrafts' Etsy shop. Let us know if you'd like to make an assortment of items that we could spread out on a sandwich board, as pictured.

We already have a pattern for fruit tarts that should be perfect for bear-sized pies. Also doughnuts and cookies. We have lots of life-sized vegetable and fruit patterns, too. We can modify them to make them smaller if needed.

We'll need a picnic blanket on which to place all our food items. About 3 feet square. Maybe checked? You choose.

Other ideas:

- Ear of corn
- Slice of watermelon
- Loaf of bread
- Jar of jam
- Picnic basket
- Backpack

If you want to try a simple sweater, Merri Purdy has a free pattern on Ravelry. I was able to adjust it pretty easily to fit a bear I had.

If you let us know what you're making, we'll sign you up so we don't have three people making the same thing.

Thanks for participating!

Ellen, Laura, and Denise